Alert details

Cross Site Scripting (verified)

Severity	High
Type	Validation
Reported by module	Scripting (XSS.script)

Description

This script is possibly vulnerable to Cross Site Scripting (XSS) attacks.

Cross site scripting (also referred to as XSS) is a vulnerability that allows an attacker to send malicious code (usually in the form of Javascript) to another user. Because a browser cannot know if the script should be trusted or not, it will execute the script in the user context allowing the attacker to access any cookies or session tokens retained by the browser.

Impact

Malicious users may inject JavaScript, VBScript, ActiveX, HTML or Flash into a vulnerable application to fool a user in order to gather data from them. An attacker can steal the session cookie and take over the account, impersonating the user. It is also possible to modify the content of the page presented to the user.

Recommendation

Your script should filter metacharacters from user input.

DOM-based Cross-Site Scripting

Severity	High
Type	Validation
Reported by module	Crawler

Description

This script is possibly vulnerable to Cross Site Scripting (XSS) attacks.

Cross site scripting (also referred to as XSS) is a vulnerability that allows an attacker to send malicious code (usually in the form of Javascript) to another user. Because a browser cannot know if the script should be trusted or not, it will execute the script in the user context allowing the attacker to access any cookies or session tokens retained by the browser.

Impact

Malicious users may inject JavaScript, VBScript, ActiveX, HTML or Flash into a vulnerable application to fool a user in order to gather data from them. An attacker can steal the session cookie and take over the account, impersonating the user. It is also possible to modify the content of the page presented to the user.

Recommendation

Your script should filter metacharacters from user input.

HTML form without CSRF protection

Severity	Medium
Type	Informational
Reported by module	Crawler

Description

This alert may be a false positive, manual confirmation is required.

Cross-site request forgery, also known as a one-click attack or session riding and abbreviated as CSRF or XSRF, is a type of malicious exploit of a website whereby unauthorized commands are transmitted from a user that the website trusts.

Acunetix WVS found a HTML form with no apparent CSRF protection implemented. Consult details for more information about the affected HTML form.

Impact

An attacker may force the users of a web application to execute actions of the attacker's choosing. A successful CSRF exploit can compromise end user data and operation in case of normal user. If the targeted end user is the administrator account, this can compromise the entire web application.

Recommendation

Check if this form requires CSRF protection and implement CSRF countermeasures if necessary.

Insecure transition from HTTP to HTTPS in form post

Severity	Medium
Type	Configuration
Reported by module	Crawler

Description

This form is served from an insecure page (http) page. This page could be hijacked using a Man-in-the-middle attack and an attacker can replace the form target.

Impact

Possible information disclosure.

Recommendation

The form should be served from a secure (https) page.

Source code disclosure

Severity	Medium
Type	Validation
Reported by module	Scripting (Text_Search.script)

Description

Looks like the source code for this script is available. This check is using pattern matching to determine if server side tags are found in the file. In some cases this alert may generate false positives.

Impact

An attacker can gather sensitive information (database connection strings, application logic) by analysing the source code. This information can be used to conduct further attacks.

Recommendation

Remove this file from your website or change its permissions to remove access.

<h1 align="center">Australian Shepherds -  Collie Eye Anomaly(CEA)</h1>
&nbsp; Treatment of the eye is a major concern for puppies belonging to some breeds like Australian Shepherd and Border Collies. They can be affected with eye diseases like CEA, PHR, microphthalmia and also cataracts. Research conducted in 2001 says that, the Australian Shepherd is less in number as compared to the Border Collies, with just about 12000 as against 20000 Border Collies. Open communication between the breeders and the dog owners revealed that such diseases were common in the breeds since they were mostly hereditary. Owners were asked to submit eye examination certificates done on their dogs and the breeders too were asked to submit the same for the entire litter. All information on ocular abnormalities were recorded. Invitations were sent across via dog magazines, mailing lists, word-of-mouth, breed specific websites and Club publications. Data on both affected as well as unaffected dogs were required and both puppy as well as adult certificates were taken wherever they were available. It was noted that one-sixth of the PHR carriers were also carriers of the CEA.
Also, CEA being the second most common disease among these dogs, it is difficult to get rid of this ailment without facing breeding restrictions. A direct DNA mutation test for carrier status can now be easily availed.  If this is carried out, CEA in Australian Shepherds can be reduced by a large extent and this appears to be the only plausible solution to help in controlling this heritable eye disease.

<h1 align="center">Bernese Mountain Dog : Aggression towards Strangers </h1>
&nbsp; The Bernese Mountain Dog (BMD) needs adequate training before it can be introduced to strangers or even children. The best thing about them is that they never let their owners down. Dog owners who have put in a lot of effort into obedience training are the ones who get back a socialized BMD in return. This breed is very selective about the people that it interacts with. But the ones who have not been initiated at all are not to be trusted. It is essential to train them with positive training methods because of their sensitive temperament.
  They also need fenced yards or else they might grow up to be disobedient and unruly. These dogs make ideal companions for those who seek constant company with their pets. However, they are not for people who want companions for their children while they are growing up. This is because they have a short life span.  The Bernese Mountain Dog is of the opinion that every human is not a friend of his and does not go down too well with children below six years of age. His wagging tail can even knock a kid down when the dog is hyperactive.  When not properly trained and socialized, these dogs tend to suffer from the worst kind of behavioral problems. They become over possessive of their owners, and aggressive towards strangers and children because they are naturally selective about their choice of company, both humans and other dogs.  Thus, owning a BMD calls for stringent training lessons and firm socializing to get a pet with the desired qualities in place.

      OK, you&#39;ve adopted your best friend, given him a name and his own bed and collar and shown him off to friends and family. Now comes the real work. When you take on the responsibility of owning a dog it&#39;s a lot like having a child. Unlike cats that can fend for themselves and rarely need or desire owner affection your dog will rely on you for just about everything. With the exception of old Bulldogs and Bloodhounds most dogs will watch your e ... (line truncated)

With specialized breeding and selection the canine world has produced some exquisite and exotic animals but the more interesting the breed chances are the more prevalent hereditary traits can be. Bulldogs, Dalmatians and Standard Poodles are wonderful animals but come with a host of genetic traits that will require special attention and care. Bulldogs are famous for respiratory problems due to their short noses, Poodles have extremely sensitive ears that need careful trimming ... (line truncated)

Obviously your first act should be scheduling an appointment with a veterinarian to have your dog or puppy thoroughly checked over. After the initial check-up you can start to perform your own spot checks on your dog and after consulting a vet you will have enough information to know how to check for fleas, ticks, tumors and other noticeable problems. There are a number of basic home remedies you can use to cure common diseases and bacteria. Vets can be expensive and unless it ... (line truncated)

<h1 align="center">Exercising Different Dog Breeds</h1> The amount of time you are prepared to spare exercising your dog should determine the breed of dog you take up as a pet. To lead a healthy and happy life, every dog needs exercise&#38212;the extent of which varies according to the dog's sex, age, breed and health.  The importance of adequate exercising is reflected in the huge number of dogs who have confinement and lack of exercise to blame for poor muscle and bone growth, obesity, cardiac ailments and a host of other physical and emotional problems.
 <ul>
<li> It's a wise idea to have your dog thoroughly examined by a vet before

 </li> </ul>
Males of most species display greater stamina than females. A puppy, again, is expected to be infinitely more zealous than an aged dog.

is a sign of good health in your dog, it can be

Dog Breeds that need Moderate Exercise

Dogs with short legs, e.g. Chihuahuas and Dachshunds, will burn enough energy by moderate exercises; playing around the house or fenced backyard/garden with their favorite toys or going out for a walk once a day.

These breeds do well in an apartment and not highly demanding regards a good sized backyard.

Dog Breeds that need Moderate Exercise

Afghan Hound	Akita
Alaskan Malamute	American Staffordshire Terrier
Australian Terrier	Beagle
Bedlington Terrier	Bernese Mountain Dog
Bichon Frise	Black and Tan Coonhound

and Tan Coonhound

The best forms of exercise combine a balanced workout of both mind and body. Any form of strenuous exercise should be preceded by a warm-up phase and followed by a cool-down period. For a less fit dog, a longer warm up and shorter strenuous exercise period may be appropriate.

For a dog not up to high levels of activity, the mental and physical warm-up alone may be ideal, with no strenuous exercise at all. Often a good routine is to pulse; the exercise in short segments, alternating between focused mental tasks and more strenuous physical ones.

Walking is by far the most common form of exercise. The length of the walk would vary from breed to breed. When taking a dog out for a run or a jog, it's advisable to avoid stone or concrete paths. Grassy roads or parks are best suited for this purpose as they would be easy on his paws. Keeping the dog on an extendable leash would allow it ample freedom and grant the owner suitable control at the same time.

Letting a dog chase a bicycle or a vehicle might be risky. Dogs love active games like Frisbee, Fetch (with toys or balls), tug-of-war and the like. It also provides a good opportunity for the owner to bond with his dog. However, care should be taken to see to it that the dog doesn't jump too high and land in awkward positions and injure himself.

Swimming is another great way for a dog to burn calories and keep himself cool on a sultry day. Climbing stairs is the quickest way for a dog to lose weight and keep fit. One can also take resort to the gym equipments specially designed for dogs.

Along with exercising, it's equally important for the dog to socialize and connect with other dogs and people. In the process, the dog would gradually pick up vital lessons on correct behavior and obedience.

Owners should keep an eye on the dog for signs of over-exertion, like excessive panting, bleeding pads, vacant stares, pale lips or face.

A Good Dog Is A Tired Dog;. So if the dog exhibits no signs of exertion and/or shows signs of pent-up energy when it returns from its walks, it is not getting enough exercise. To learn to rest calmly is as important for a dog as

        exercise is.  Dogs are susceptible to heat exhaustion and heat strokes. It's thus unwise to make a dog over-exert itself on a hot day. And of course, it's essential to keep a dog hydrated and supplement his exercise with good quality dog food rich in proteins and essential minerals. on me about a month ago. She was only 9yrs. old, back on 4/3/09. I had a hard time. I cried everyday for 3 weeks. She had Sugar Diabetes and died of a Diabetic Coma. Her and I had a special bond because she knew I had to have my Oxygen on.  When ever she would hear me get on a coughing spree after taking a breathing treatment she would come into the room where I was, and lay down about 5 or 6 Ft. from me, and just lay and stare at me for an hour at a time.

     I still can't talk about her yet. But I found a Sheltie about 150 miles from where I live and when I saw it in the Advertizment section of the paper, I called about her. She was the only one left out of a litter of 5. 3 males and 2 females. She will only get to be under 25 lbs.
     I have had her now for going on 3 weeks.
    She was 12 wks. old when we bought her. I named her Gidget but I still all her Jenna once in a while. So does my Husband. We love her dearly. Where I go, she goes. She is laying under my computer desk right now. I just wanted to let you know a out Jenna dying on me.  I will continue being a member of the Elite Dog Club.

Description

Subversion metadata directory (.svn) was found in this folder. An attacker can extract sensitive information by requesting the hidden metadata directory that popular version control tool Subversion creates. The metadata directories are used for development purposes to keep track of development changes to a set of source code before it is committed back to a central repository (and vice-versa). When code is rolled to a live server from a repository, it is supposed to be done as an export rather than as a local working copy, and hence this problem.

Impact

These files may expose sensitive information that may help an malicious user to prepare more advanced attacks.

Recommendation

Remove these files from production systems or restrict access to the .svn directory. To deny access to all the .svn folders you need to add the following lines in the appropriate context (either global config, or vhost/directory, or from .htaccess):

<Directory ~ /\.svn>
Order allow,deny Deny from all </Directory>

User credentials are sent in clear text

Severity	Medium
Type	Informational
Reported by module	Crawler

Description

User credentials are transmitted over an unencrypted channel. This information should always be transferred via an encrypted channel (HTTPS) to avoid being intercepted by malicious users.

Impact

A third party may be able to read the user credentials by intercepting an unencrypted HTTP connection.

Recommendation

Because user credentials are considered sensitive information, should always be transferred to the server over an encrypted connection (HTTPS).

Clickjacking: X-Frame-Options header missing

Severity	Low
Type	Configuration
Reported by module	Scripting (Clickjacking_X_Frame_Options.script)

Description

Clickjacking (User Interface redress attack, UI redress attack, UI redressing) is a malicious technique of tricking a Web user into clicking on something different from what the user perceives they are clicking on, thus potentially revealing confidential information or taking control of their computer while clicking on seemingly innocuous web pages.

The server didn't return an X-Frame-Options header which means that this website could be at risk of a clickjacking attack. The X-Frame-Options HTTP response header can be used to indicate whether or not a browser should be allowed to render a page in a <frame> or <iframe>. Sites can use this to avoid clickjacking attacks, by ensuring that their content is not embedded into other sites.

Impact

The impact depends on the affected web application.

Recommendation

Configure your web server to include an X-Frame-Options header. Consult Web references for more information about the possible values for this header.

File upload

Severity	Low
Type	Informational
Reported by module	Crawler

Description

This page allows visitors to upload files to the server. Various web applications allow users to upload files (such as pictures, images, sounds, ...). Uploaded files may pose a significant risk if not handled correctly. A remote attacker could send a multipart/form-data POST request with a specially-crafted filename or mime type and execute arbitrary code.

Impact

If the uploaded files are not safely checked an attacker may upload malicious files.

Recommendation

Restrict file types accepted for upload: check the file extension and only allow certain files to be uploaded. Use a whitelist approach instead of a blacklist. Check for double extensions such as .php.png. Check for files without a filename like .htaccess (on ASP.NET, check for configuration files like web.config). Change the permissions on the upload folder so the files within it are not executable. If possible, rename the files that are uploaded.

Login page password-guessing attack

Severity	Low
Type	Validation
Reported by module	Scripting (Html_Authentication_Audit.script)

Description

A common threat web developers face is a password-guessing attack known as a brute force attack. A brute-force attack is an attempt to discover a password by systematically trying every possible combination of letters, numbers, and symbols until you discover the one correct combination that works.

This login page doesn't have any protection against password-guessing attacks (brute force attacks). It's recommended to implement some type of account lockout after a defined number of incorrect password attempts. Consult Web references for more information about fixing this problem.

Impact

An attacker may attempt to discover a weak password by systematically trying every possible combination of letters, numbers, and symbols until it discovers the one correct combination that works.

Recommendation

It's recommended to implement some type of account lockout after a defined number of incorrect password attempts.

Possible sensitive directories

Severity	Low
Type	Validation
Reported by module	Scripting (Possible_Sensitive_Directories.script)

Description

A possible sensitive directory has been found. This directory is not directly linked from the website. This check looks for common sensitive resources like backup directories, database dumps, administration pages, temporary directories. Each one of these directories could help an attacker to learn more about his target.

Impact

This directory may expose sensitive information that could help a malicious user to prepare more advanced attacks.

Recommendation

Restrict access to this directory or remove it from the website.

Possible sensitive files

Severity	Low
Type	Validation
Reported by module	Scripting (Possible_Sensitive_Files.script)

Description

A possible sensitive file has been found. This file is not directly linked from the website. This check looks for common sensitive resources like password files, configuration files, log files, include files, statistics data, database dumps. Each one of these files could help an attacker to learn more about his target.

Impact

This file may expose sensitive information that could help a malicious user to prepare more advanced attacks.

Recommendation

Restrict access to this file or remove it from the website.

Session Cookie without HttpOnly flag set

Severity	Low
Type	Informational
Reported by module	Crawler

Description

This session cookie doesn't have the HTTPOnly flag set. When a cookie is set with the HTTPOnly flag, it instructs the browser that the cookie can only be accessed by the server and not by client-side scripts. This is an important security protection for session cookies.

Impact

None

Recommendation

If possible, you should set the HTTPOnly flag for this cookie.

Session Cookie without Secure flag set

Severity	Low
Type	Informational
Reported by module	Crawler

Description

This session cookie doesn't have the Secure flag set. When a cookie is set with the Secure flag, it instructs the browser that the cookie can only be accessed over secure SSL channels. This is an important security protection for session cookies.

Impact

None

Recommendation

If possible, you should set the Secure flag for this cookie.

Broken links

Severity	Informational
Type	Informational
Reported by module	Crawler

Description

A broken link refers to any link that should take you to a document, image or webpage, that actually results in an error. This page was linked from the website but it is inaccessible.

Impact

Problems navigating the site.

Recommendation

Remove the links to this file or make it accessible.

Severity	Informational
Type	Informational
Reported by module	Scripting (Text_Search.script)

Description

One or more email addresses have been found on this page. The majority of spam comes from email addresses harvested off the internet. The spam-bots (also known as email harvesters and email extractors) are programs that scour the internet looking for email addresses on any website they come across. Spambot programs look for strings like myname@mydomain.com and then record any addresses found.

Impact

Email addresses posted on Web sites may attract spam.

Recommendation

Check references for details on how to solve this problem.

Password type input with autocomplete enabled

Severity	Informational
Type	Informational
Reported by module	Crawler

Description

When a new name and password is entered in a form and the form is submitted, the browser asks if the password should be saved. Thereafter when the form is displayed, the name and password are filled in automatically or are completed as the name is entered. An attacker with local access could obtain the cleartext password from the browser cache.

Impact

Possible sensitive information disclosure

Recommendation

The password autocomplete should be disabled in sensitive applications.

To disable autocomplete, you may use a code similar to:

<INPUT TYPE="password" AUTOCOMPLETE="off">

Affected items

/loginchk.php

Details

Password type input named pass from form named form1 with action loginchk.php has autocomplete enabled.

Request headers
